

Q: Why are business leaders from all around Ohio and the nation sounding the alarm about the child care crisis?

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

A Crisis Over Child Care Is Holding Back Companies and Blue-Collar Workers

Forbes

4 Ways Companies Should Respond To The Childcare Crisis

OHIO CAPITAL JOURNAL

High-quality child care is key to improving tomorrow's workforce in Ohio

CBS NEWS

As child care costs soar, more parents may have to exit the workforce

Harvard Business Review

Childcare Is a Business Issue

TheUpshot

With Pandemic Money Gone, Child Care Is an Industry on the Brink

cleveland.com

Ohio Chamber of Commerce: Child care

npr

What To Do About America's Child Care Crisis

MarketWatch

The rising cost of childcare is making life impossible for parents.

The Columbus Dispatch

Columbus parents are in need of child care. Here's how it is affecting the workforce

MARKETPLACE

A child care shortage is making it difficult for many mothers to return to full-time work

Forbes

Dayton

Local, In-Depth

Forbes

Why The Child Care Crisis Is Actually An Economic Crisis

New York Times

Jobs Aplenty, but a Shortage of Care Keeps Many Women From Benefiting

The Washington Post

get more funds driven

CNN BUSINESS

It's still too hard for parent in Am

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

Child Care Hasn't Recovered From Covid, Keeping Many Parents at Home

A ECONOMIC REVIEW

The Hidden Barrier to

COLUMBUS BUSINESS FIRST

Child care benefits at work: Employers are increasingly offering resources to parents with daycare needs

Central Ohio's ongoing child care crisis poses bevy of workforce challenges, poll shows

AP Associated Press

More Republicans back spending on child care, saying it's an economic

MARKETPLACE

Child care is a challenge for the many parents with unpredictable work hours

Inc.

OHIO CAPITAL JOURNAL

High-quality child care is key to improving tomorrow's workforce in Ohio

ers: Parents Need Child Care Benefits Now, More Than Ever

The Washington Post

A child-care center isn't yet open. The waitlist already nears 1,500.

Q:

Why are business leaders from all around Ohio and the nation sounding the alarm about the child care crisis?

A: Because Ohio's businesses need a reliable, growing, & diverse workforce to succeed and businesses simply can't get it.

The lack of quality, affordable child care is contributing to Ohio's workforce shortage.

The child care crisis significantly hampers workforce recruitment and retention, particularly for Ohio's small businesses. Nearly half of small business owners cite lack of affordable and accessible child care as a major obstacle to staffing.

Even families who manage the increasing cost of child care face a scarcity of available options. Over half of rural Ohioans and 30% of all Ohioans reside in "child care deserts," areas lacking adequate child care facilities with either no providers or a significant shortage of licensed slots compared to the number of children under five.

Parents face unemployment or underemployment due to insufficient access to quality, affordable child care. Over 800,000 working parents in Ohio have reduced their work hours due to child care barriers. Additionally, many parents experience significant work disruptions because of child care challenges.

This crisis affects everyone. Economic studies show that the absence of quality child care for children under three results in a yearly loss of $122 billion nationwide in earnings, productivity, and revenue. Ohio's economy alone suffers an estimated annual loss of $3.9 billion due to child care issues.

Child care is unaffordable, often surpassing mortgage or rent payments for many families. Center-based child care expenses for a family with an infant and toddler are akin to the annual tuition and fees at Ohio's public universities.

The scarcity of quality, affordable child care significantly adds to persistent workforce shortages, a top concern for businesses according to the National Federation of Independent Business. Studies from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce show that almost 60% of parents leave the workforce due to inadequate child care options.

A working mom with two young children often spends nearly $10 per hour of work just to cover child care, excluding taxes and other necessities like rent, utilities, transportation, and healthcare. In Ohio's median income scenario ($60,320 annually or $29 per hour), one-third of the hourly wage goes solely towards child care expenses, before taxes and other costs are considered.

Investing in Child Care is a Proven Workforce Strategy

Access to affordable, quality child care would prompt →

→ non-working Ohio moms with children under age 6 to return to work or work more hours.<sup>8</sup>

1. Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Business Voices
2. Department of Children & Youth

3. Groundwork Ohio 2024 Poll
4. Child Care Aware of America - Affordability Analysis

6. Ready Nation
7. U.S. Chamber of Commerce

8. Groundwork Ohio 2024 Poll

Q: How can you help address the child care crisis?

By taking action to solve the child care crisis, Ohio's businesses—and our economy—can grow and children and families can thrive.

We need you to be a part of the solution.

 EXPLORE	  INVEST	   ADVOCATE
Shift workplace practices to address employee needs. ..... Schedule Predictability Job Sharing Flexible Scheduling	Support employees to make child care more accessible and affordable. ..... Back-Up Child Care Child Care Benefits On-Site Child Care	Share experiences and perspectives to propel change. ..... Get Involved: Engaging in public advocacy helps to raise awareness about the economic benefits of investing in child care and garner support for policy changes at local, state, and federal levels. Businesses can partner with others to advance child care access in the state.

A: Businesses must be part of the solution, but they can't solve this crisis alone. It's going to require the commitment of private and public partners alike. A robust, high-quality, affordable child care system benefits the entire state and should be discussed in boardrooms and in lunchrooms, but also in the halls of Congress and our state legislature.

COALITION PARTNERS

Learn More & Join the National Conversation:

Join our Business Coalition to connect with other statewide business leaders.
Support the Workforce of Today & Tomorrow.

Groundwork OHIO

Learn More at GroundworkOhio.org

@GroundworkOhio